SUBJECT: 2018-2019 University of Florida Foundation Term Professorship Nominations

We received the call for the 2018-2019 University of Florida Foundation Term Professorships Program in support of the university's preeminence goals and to support faculty research efforts. The Foundation plans to award two Term Professorships in 2018-2019 (see the attached announcement from the Provost).

UF/IFAS may nominate one faculty member and this nomination is due to the Provost's office by August 10, 2018. For the UF/IFAS selection, Department Chairs and Center Directors may each submit one nomination to the UF/IFAS Dean for Research Office by Monday, July 30, 2018.

The eligible pool includes untenured, tenured, or non-tenure-track faculty who have a substantial research assignment and an outstanding record of research accomplishments.

Each submission requires:

1. Completed copy of the cover-sheet (attached)
2. Nominee's Curriculum Vitae (Note: this should be an abbreviated, 1-page current CV)
3. Candidate response to the following areas (1 – 2 pages)
4. Provide an annotated listing of the most significant contributions to the Nominee's field;
5. Provide evidence of significant national and international recognition for the Nominee's work;
6. Provide a statement of teaching effectiveness; and
7. Provide evidence of local, national and international service impact.
8. A description from the Unit Leader documenting the reasons that this faculty member should be nominated, focusing on their research accomplishments (this will be used to compose the dean's final nomination letter if this nominee is selected).

The response to 1 – 3 above should not exceed 4 pages.

Please consider nominating a faculty member from your unit for this important award.
